WELCOME!

THE GENE RODDENBERRY LEGACY

It's no surprise to the millions of Star Trek fans across the globe that the inspirational and positive message of hope for the social condition of humanity in the future is as relevant today (if not more so) as when it was first presented in The Original Series. Our society owes a huge debt of gratitude to the Great Bird of the Galaxy, Gene Roddenberry. We're not sure even Gene could have foreseen the profound impact his hope and vision would have on untold generations to come.

In a world increasingly fractured by political, economic, ethnic and social divisions, the hope for a united and benevolent society is the beautiful force that binds and drives all good people across the globe. What Star Trek did, by allegory and metaphor, was expose the hatreds, divisiveness, hypocrisies and weaknesses that have plagued civilized peoples (and aliens) for untold millennia. Yet those failings of human nature can be overcome, and peace and unity can prevail. That will be our future, one we can be grateful to give to our heirs. This is Gene Roddenberry's vision, and his legacy.

So when we see thousands of fans gathered together to celebrate this gift that the Great Bird bequeathed to us, we smile with no small degree of grateful admiration for the Star Trek fan community. In a world rushing past us at warp speed, where society has increasingly grown fractional and virtual, where massive digital social networks have risen on the ashes of the old media paradigms, we are confident that the original social network: the gathering together of the tribes, the fan "convention," retains a vibrant relevance ever more important today in this ever more isolating world.

So Gene, here's to you. We come together this weekend to celebrate your legacy, and your promise of a better world not too far off on the horizon. All we need is love, and you gave that to us in abundance.

Thanks,
Adam Malin and Gary Berman at Creation Entertainment

THE RULES FOR THE FUN!

Thanks for being with us! We really appreciate your visit and want to make sure you have the absolute best time! With that in mind a few rules to keep everyone safe:

- 1) Photo taking from your seats only, do not rush the stage when guests appear.
- 2) PHOTO OPS are done on a first come/first taken basis with exceptions noted within this schedule, including VIPs who can go first. PLEASE be on time as they move very quickly and once over we cannot repeat. "Special poses" are at the discretion of the actor and could be based on flights or other scheduling issues. We can not accept cell phone tickets for photo ops.
***We try our best to catch excessive light glare on glasses, but it is extremely difficult to detect during the session. Please be advised that we cannot be responsible for glare if you choose to leave your glasses on in your photo.
- 3) Please have your items for signature out and ready during autograph sessions. Personalizations are at the discretion of the celebrities signing and/or may be affected by guest flights and other scheduling issues. You must bring something to have signed, either something from home or a photo or souvenir from the convention. We can not accept cell phone tickets for autographs. If you preordered have your computer print out flat and ready to be scanned, please.

- 4) Our volunteers are here to help you and we thank them for doing so. However, if you have an issue with ANYONE or ANYTHING please let one of our Creation Hosts (Adam Malin, Gary Berman, or Stephanie Dizon) know during the event so we can solve the problem. We can't help out if you don't tell us! Don't let anything ruin your experience: let Adam, Gary or Stephanie handle the issue on site!
- 5) Please only sit in the seat you paid for.
- 6) At the request of our guests, ABSOLUTELY no video or audio taping!
- 7) Please turn cell phones off and kindly refrain from talking when theatre is active.
- 8) PHOTO OPS may be picked up in the photo op area when available, but not during a photo op session so we don't interrupt the photographer or the photo op in session. Full information on when photos will be ready for pick up is always on a hand-out, which is available in the photo-op room.
- 9) ONLY ONE QUESTION MAY BE ASKED TO A CELEBRITY BY A FAN. PLEASE NO PERSONAL STORIES ABOUT YOURSELF, ASKING FOR HUGS, OR TELLING THEM WHY YOU LOVE THEM (that's why we're all here!) By not following this rule you are taking time away from other fans who might want to ask something, as well as making the guest appearance more about yourself than the people we all paid money to see.
- 10) During autographs we generally call row by row or by ticket number (pre-convention purchased tickets are called first, followed by tickets purchased at the convention). If you have trouble standing let us know, if you are in a wheelchair or scooter please go with your row or by your number.
- 11) Flash photography occurs in our theaters and anyone who is sensitive to such should be advised that it is occurring and should avoid if necessary.
- 12) Please note that we can accept admission tickets on cell phones but not autograph or photo op tickets, those must be printed out from your computer. There are computers in the business office of the hotel in the hallway on the way to the convention center, if needed.

Friday Events in the Secondary Theatre DeForest Kelley Theatre - Brasilia Ballroom

8 am StarTrek.com presents Star Trek Craft Workshop
Early morning begins with Mary Czerwinski, an avid crafter featured in the Star Trek Craft Book and host of Glue Guns & Phasers (<http://gluegunsandphasers.blogspot.com>), who will lead a step-by-step tutorial on how to make your very own Star Trek keepsake. Come out and get creative at this hands-on event and build memories with the whole family. The workshop is free and open to adults and kids alike, but we encourage you to arrive early as supplies are limited. Also featuring Connor Bright (Costumer and co-host of Glue Guns and Phasers).

8:50 am Captain in Charge? Your Choice! It's the age old debate: Kirk or Picard? Or Sisko? Or Janeway? Or Archer? Who is the best Starfleet Captain? It's your turn to settle this debate once and for all (or at least until next year's con) at the Battle of the Captains panel. Our panelists will each defend the captain of their choice, and you, the audience, will make the pick by voting on who is the best captain in several categories including but not limited to: Diplomacy, Sex Appeal, and Fighting Skills. Audience participation is the name of the game, and we encourage you to speak up in defense of YOUR captain at the mic.

Panelists will be: John Champion (Mission Log Podcast) for Kirk; Kipleigh Brown (Star Trek: Enterprise; Yesterday Was a Lie) for Picard; James Kerwin (Yesterday Was a Lie; RUR Genesis) for Sisko; Kayla Iacovino (GEEK Magazine) for Janeway; and Joseph Dickerson (This Week in Geek) for Archer.

9:30 am A NASA Presentation: Brian Day is the Director of Communication and Outreach at the Solar System Exploration Research Virtual Institute. In this role, he coordinates programs with numerous internal and external partnering organizations, focusing on providing opportunities for students and the public to directly participate in lunar science and exploration.

Brian's topic for this discussion is: "Living in a Crowded Universe" Not long ago, we thought of space as being empty. We seriously wondered if ours was the only solar system. The thought that life might exist elsewhere in the universe was largely relegated to science fiction. Now, the Kepler mission has shown us that the galaxy is full of solar systems. Within our own solar system, worlds that were once thought to be completely unsuitable for life are now looking far more hospitable. We now have direct evidence that the building blocks of life are being made all around us in space and are raining down on us all of the time. Even the Moon is showing a new face; it is no longer the completely arid, utterly airless, geologically dead world we once thought it to be. Another aspect of living in a crowded universe is the swarm of Near Earth Objects, asteroids and comets, that threaten the Earth. Fortunately, you don't need to wait until the 23rd century to explore the crowded universe and perhaps save the Earth; we will look at exciting tools that are available to you today.

10:15 am Guest Stars of Star Trek: Don Stark (The Yridian Ashrock in DS9 and Holographic Nicky the Nose in First Contact), Natalija Nogulich (Fleet Admiral Alynna Nechayev), Lee Arenberg (Enterprise Tellarite Ambassador Gral and Voyager's Pelk, and TNG's DaiMon Bok) and Mark Allen Sheppard (Morn of DS9). Hosted by Richard Arnold.

Sunday Events in the Main Theatre The Roddenberry Theatre - Pavilion Ballroom

9:00 am Kate Mulgrew introduces her son, Los Angeles artist, Alec Egan. Alec is an MFA graduate of Otis College of Art and Design and he has spent the last year on a new body of work, Luminous Opera. Egan's language is aggressive and visceral, based in questions of authenticity and art historical myths and clichés. Reframing Van Gogh's pictorial language, moreover, using it as a trope with his own subject matter, Egan creates a muscular vocabulary with dense, excessive surfaces akin to Anselm Keifer and Leon Kossoff. His application of oil paint is a constructive process; images built into large scale, tactile landscapes and portraits. They are a fecund and material totality. Egan's subjects are both personal and historic; familial portraiture to Van Gogh's fields and trees. His depiction of Van Gogh's green parrot is transformed into a double edged allegory; now a diving acrobat, or a descending Icarus figure? Using commercial poster art or Star Trek references, Egan rides a confluence of humor, tragedy, nature, and Pop influences to investigate ideas of masculinity, beauty and culture. His works are a deliberate statement on the ecstatic wisdom of making pictures; a belief in the power of the artist, and a declarative howl.

In celebration of the 20th Anniversary of Voyager, Alec will also have very limited, very special paintings of Ms. Mulgrew, which both he and Kate will sign on SUNDAY morning, following Kate's surprise stage appearance with Alec on SUNDAY. All artwork can be purchased directly at Alec's Table #66. Please visit his website: www.alecegan.com

9:10 am A NASA Presentation: "To Boldly Go" John Marmie
currently serves as the Deputy Division Chief for the Programs and Projects Management Division at NASA Ames Research Center in Northern California and is part of NASA's Asteroid Redirect Mission (ARM) planning team, in which NASA boldly plans to capture and redirect an asteroid. He recently served as the Assistant Project Manager for the Interface Region Imaging Spectrograph (IRIS) mission to observe how solar material moves, gathers energy and heats up as it travels through a little-understood region in the Sun's lower atmosphere. Prior to that, John served as the Deputy Project Manager on the Lunar Crater Observation and Sensing Satellite (LCROSS) mission, which was a lunar smashing success after confirming the presence of water ice on the moon. John received a master's degree in electrical engineering from Ohio University and has been involved with many exciting projects since starting at Ames in 1989. John is a passionate advocate for education and public outreach and has combined his passion for music and space exploration through songwriting. His latest full-length album, "CURIOSITY", includes a song inspired by Star Trek entitled "Party On The Starship Enterprise"!

John will touch on a few past deep space missions, current missions and then highlight future missions, including the Asteroid Redirect Mission and how that plays into our plans for a manned mission to Mars. He will highlight any Star Trek influences along the way and then perform the Starship Enterprise song, then if there is time...take a few questions.

10:10 am David Gerrold (One of the genre's most popular writers, it is always a joy to welcome David to the Vegas Convention as he is one of the few that can take us back to the production side of the original series. It is our pleasure to present for the first time a look back at the finale and the ending of the series and the impact it had on our popular culture and Star Trek's enduring stature as well. This special event is hosted by TNG expert author and lecturer Larry Nemecek.

5:20 pm "We Touched the Future" A look at the impact of Star Trek: The Experience

It's been closed for almost six years, but the immersive Las Vegas theme park Star Trek: The Experience still holds a place of high esteem in the hearts and minds of the millions of people who visited it during its ten-year run. Those who were involved in its development, construction, and operation understand why it remains so important to many Trek fans.

This panel will include Larry Nemecek, who will talk about the origins of The Experience; April Hebert, the longest serving employee (an actor who was involved from construction to decommissioning); Vernon Wilmer, the archivist who collects stories and photos from former visitors and employees; and former Experience actors Nicole Padburg and Michael Hartnett. Also, some audience members (who responded to a call put out on FB and Twitter) will be invited to the microphone to briefly share their stories of the Experience. # A WORD ABOUT COLLECTING AUTOGRAPHS

We are HUGE collectors of autographed items and photos and we are really proud of our collection that covers a lot of the history of show business with a focus on the genre of course. That said we are also aware of the fact that you have to be VERY careful when buying autographed items anywhere, including places you would normally think would be safe.

The most important key to buying is to know the buyer and the history of the piece. We have a lot of autograph vendors here at the convention and on occasion there have been questions about the legitimacy of some of the pieces. Some of them work with “runners” and buy their stuff second hand from these “runners” that stop the performers when they are at a premiere or restaurant. Because they depend on second hand folks it isn't our preferred source. The vendors should be able to give you a detailed description of where their items came from and how they got them. If it is questionable, pass. At Creation's booth (the one first as you enter on the front wall) you know the autographs come from either past conventions, or through purchases that we trust, mainly the old Catch-A-Star collectibles sold through QVC or collector cards that are signed by stars, or our Hollywood legends collection that was purchased through legitimate auction houses like Profiles in History or Heritage auctions.

As a caveat, to show you how careful you have to be, they say that over 90% of autographs on eBay are fake and a certificate of authenticity is meaningless if it is written by the same person who is selling bogus autographs. We've also run into fraud issues with some of the autograph stores in Vegas when we've had stuff authenticated. So buyer beware and stick with who you trust. It is a great hobby, but there are those looking to take advantage of well meaning folks.

GOOD LUCK and enjoy your AUTOGRAPH HUNTING. And of course, getting your own autographs in person is the foolproof way to go!

Thanks,
Adam Malin and Gary Berman at Creation Entertainment

FIVE YEAR MISSION

NEW! For the first time we will have a full “house band” on stage during the convention to add to the fun! FIVE YEAR MISSION will serve in this capacity and we think you'll love them. Along with being on the big stage playing interstitially during our guests and events they will also be doing a one hour concert at the Saturday Night Dessert Party (exclusive for Gold and Captain's Chair Patrons). The band will also have a table in the vendors room throughout the convention.

The five seasoned musicians who comprise indie rock band Five Year Mission were brought together by their mutual love of sci-fi. Their mission: write and record a song for every episode of the original Star Trek series from the 1960's. Since all five members are involved in the songwriting process, the group's sound is eclectic and expansive, boldly going where no band has gone before, with material ranging from power-pop to folk, punk to rap, and nearly everything in between.

The band has independently released three critically acclaimed full-length albums (2010's Year 1, 2011's Year 2, and 2013's Year 3 respectively) and one EP (2012's The Trouble with Tribbles), and they have at least two full-lengths on the horizon. Five Year Mission has accomplished much over the past four years: They performed regularly in and around the Midwest, appeared at some of the most prestigious science fiction conventions in the country, and have won the hearts and ears of Star Trek fans the world over. In early 2012, the band opened a panel for the legendary William Shatner in New Orleans, and shortly thereafter, they released a song paying tribute to actor George Takei; the song has since amassed over 84,000 plays on Youtube.

The members of Five Year Mission continue to write, record, and perform songs for their ever-expanding fanbase, and they're having a blast doing it!

The Band Members are:

NOAH BUTLER - Guitar/Bass/Keys/Vocals/Songwriter

ANDY FARK - Percussion/Vocals/Songwriter

PATRICK O'CONNOR - Guitar/Bass/Keys/Vocals/Songwriter

MIKE RITTENHOUSE - Guitar/Bass/Keys/Vocals/Songwriter

CHRIS SPURGIN - Guitar/Bass/Keys/Vocals/Songwriter

AUTOGRAPHS

One of the coolest things about the convention is the chance to get in person autographs on the item of your choice (you can bring something from home or purchase a photo or souvenir at the convention).

Note that those designated by a * are signing on a complimentary basis for Gold Weekend Patrons: 13 great in person autographs included in your Gold Package. Guests that are signing at their tables in the vendors room directly have determined their own autograph pricing and questions about that and timing can be addressed directly by their "handlers" at the show. On the upside they all remain available in the vendors room for much more time than in the past so it is far easier to meet and spend some time with favorite stars who have chosen to offer their autographs directly. Note that some of these "signer" guests are only coming for one or two days, although the majority will be here longer.

Autograph tickets, for those not signing at their own tables, are available at the autograph ticket tables, far right front of vendors room.

** Please note that we can not accept "on cell phone" tickets for autograph and photo sessions so you must print them out at home and bring them to the convention on paper, not your phone. Thank you! You can also print out your tickets in the hotel's business office. We can accept "on cell phone" tickets for admission however.
