3:30 PM		Teaching with Trek: Star Trek as Modern Mythology Joseph Campbell wrote that myths are the stories that answer the “big questions” in life: What is right? What is wrong? Why are we here? What is important? How should we live? Mythic heroes struggle with those questions, they make difficult choices, and they demonstrate cultural ideals. Star Trek is a modern myth that explores the social, moral, and scientific issues of contemporary society. It can be used to discuss those issues in the home or the classroom and to teach the characteristics and importance of myth in literature, history, art, and society. With Dr. Janet McMullen , University of North Alabama		Brasilia 4-6

4:45 PM		Women of Trek Women have always been a driving force in Star Trek fandom, and the women characters of Star Trek have served as inspirations for so many fans over the years. To celebrate the women of Trek, Mary Chieffo and Marina Sirtis will join three women who grew up watching Star Trek for a conversation about women's roles in the series. The panel will discuss their early impressions of the characters that inspired them, the way we see these characters today; and how the roles of women on Star Trek have changed over the years. In addition to our guests, the panel will feature Sara Gulde (Nerd Camp in Portland, OR), Amy Imhoff (Shoes & Starships), Sue Kisenwether (Women at Warp: A Roddenberry Star Trek Podcast).		Pavilion

9:30 PM		Creation Entertainment presents: The Star Trek Rat Pack! We end the convention with the traditional live performance by the talented and hilarious STAR TREK RAT PACK (an ever updated and changing Star Trek themed parody of the original Rat Pack Vegas nightclub act), doing wonderful material. This show has the intent of sending you going home with an extra happy feeling! And by the way a fan wrote to us suggesting we end with a musical show rather than autographing so fans leave on a "high" and it definitely works with these talented entertainers at the helm! THE STAR TREK RAT PACK is starring: Max Grodenchik (lyricist and producer), Ethan Phillips, Vaughn Armstrong, Jeffrey Combs, Casey Biggs and musical accompaniment by Bill Burchell and Brent Bristow THIS MUSICAL PERFORMANCE IS FREE TO ALL IN ATTENDANCE as a special thank you from Creation Entertainment to all our fellow fans and in honor of Gene Roddenberry's enduring legacy to us all. THANK YOU GENE for giving us all STAR TREK as a part of our lives!		Pavilion

Title: First Look at Star Trek Online: Age of Discovery

Sun, Aug 5 at 10:30-11:30am, Deforest Kelley Theatre

Star Trek Online is about to embark on its maiden journey into the Star Trek: Discovery universe with Age of Discovery! Join us as we reveal what's next for the free-to-play online game based on one of the most iconic sci-fi franchises of all time. In a panel hosted by Elio "Elijah" Leo from Priority One: A Roddenberry Star Trek Podcast, we'll sit down with Discovery's very own Mary Wiseman, who will be bringing the role of Cadet Sylvia Tilly to Star Trek Online for the game's continuing saga, Age of Discovery. Plus, the dev team will share what it was like to create new game content based on Star Trek's newest television series.

Guests

- Hosted by Elio Leo from Priority One: A Roddenberry Star Trek Podcast
- Mary Wiseman – Cadet Sylvia Tilly in Star Trek: Discovery and Star Trek Online
- Al Rivera – Lead Designer for Star Trek Online
- Bill Yeatts – Art Director Star Trek Online
- Thomas Marrone – Lead Ship Artist for Star Trek Online
